LEGISLATURE MAY MEET WITHIN 60 DAYS, OLSON

LOCAL WPA MEN JOIN PROTEST

Some Workers On 2 Projects Share Demonstration; U. S. Official Warns Of Fascism

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Governor Olson said today he may have to call a special session of the Legislature within the next sixty days if wholesale dismissal from WPA rolls are carried out as planned.

This was his statement to a delegation of CIO and Workers Alliance members who asked him to use his influence with the California congressional delegation to vote new WPA appropriations.

"I have all ready done that," Olson said. "I understand that if proposed WPA dismissals go through, approximately thirty thousand workers in California will be thrown out of employment."

"In other words the $35,000,000 relief budget set up for the current fiscal year will be exhausted the first quarter if the state has to keep 30,000 from starving."

Some WPA employees in the county were "on strike" Thursday. Five or six were said to have left the fairgrounds project and about twelve were said to have left the Marshall Park project, at Coloma.

At the fairgrounds, the men from the SRA camp were not among the strikers, who were said to be "all local boys."

Officials said they understood plans had been made for a "strike" Thursday to demonstrate opposition to the recently authorized wage and

G. O. P. Stand On Lending Debated

Senate Republicans' View To Have Bearing On Congress Adjournment

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Senate Republicans meet privately today to decide their position on President Roosevelt's $3,460,000,000 lending program which is the major obstacle to an early adjournment of congress.

Discussion at the Republican conference may go far toward determining when congress will be able to go home.

Freed of neutrality legislation at this session, senate majority leader Alben W. Barkley, D., Ky., said today that every effort would be made to adjourn congress before Aug. 1.

But the lending program may precipitate extended controversy, despite last minute revision designed to overcome some of the opposition. L. McNary, R., Ore., who called the Senate minority leader Charles McNary to discuss the bill, said 90 per cent of them were opposed to it in its present form. But he conceded that it probably would be approved before adjournment.

DR. JONES' CAR KILLS BUCK ON HIGHWAY WEST OF KYBURZ

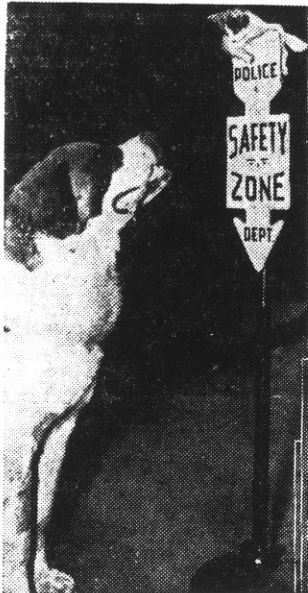

While returning from the Lake Tahoe District Sunday night, Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Jones accidentally ran down and killed a buck deer which was attempting to cross the highway just this side of the deer crossing sign between White Hall and Kyburz.

Apparently temporarily blinded by the lights, three deer jumped off the embankment toward the approaching car and one of them, a two-point buck landed on the front bumper breaking one of its legs, and stunning it. The others, apparently escaped uninjured.

Dr. Jones, knocked the buck in the head with a tire wrench and delivered it to Game Warden Sears, who took it to the county hospital.

Mrs. W. A. Reckers was in town Wednesday from her summer cabin at Phillips Station.

The big St. Bernard had scared eight of the nine lives out of this kitty, but she had enough energy left to shinny up the New York police department sign from which she seems to be hissing, "Can't you read, you big lumox?"

PEAR HARVEST STARTING

P. F. E. Ships 1st Car; Association Reports Plant Improvements

The "pear harvest moon" is coming over the mountain and by the latter part of the coming week picking and packing promises to be under way in full swing.

The first car of Bartlett's—all sizes—went rolling down the rails to Sacramento Wednesday morning from the Pacific Fruit Exchange shed, which had started packing on Tuesday.

But a "start" was about all that was made during the fore part of the week and although a few ranchers were picking, it seemed apparent that fruit will not begin to arrive at the packing sheds with any regularity until the fore part of the coming week.

Lambert Marketing Company announced plans to begin packing on next Tuesday.

The Placerville Fruit Growers' Association, which packs the majority of the pear pack from the county, reported some fruit arriving at the shed and preparations for the season completed.

In this regard, A. A. Brock, manager for the association, called attention to the completion of an addition to the packing shed on the upper end, in which the plum and peach grader has been installed.

The floor space thus cleared in the pear packing department has been utilized by the installation of a new sizer and grading belts fed by a new washer unit.

Another important installation is a pre-sorting belt on which the fruit will be dumped as a first step in its passage through the shed. On this belt the fruit will be sorted before washing.

Sometimes in the washing process, it was explained, the fruit is so thoroughly cleansed that traces of worminess in the fruit are obliterated and an occasional bad pear is overlooked by the sorters and gets into the pack. It is felt that the pre-sorting, before the wash, will insure against this because evidence of worms or other defects will not have been washed off.

The association also has a new lidding machine this year.

Frank Schank, formerly assistant manager at Raley's Drive in Market recently received a promotion and is now manager of the Roseville store. Mr. and Mrs. Schank made their home here for over a year, moving to Roseville at the time Frank was transferred.

Miss Ruth Henson is spending a fortnight visiting in San Jose.

WOMEN WOULD ENTER DERBY

Wheelbarrow Race For "Men Only" Results In Protest To Manager

The honor of the first contribution toward the decoration of Placerville for the El Dorado County Fair goes to J. P. Ainsworth's Barber Shop. The fair management is soliciting $125 to place 50 lines of flags on Main Street which is about twice as many as has usually been placed. Only professional and business men who are not likely to make a fair entry or a Studdaker Wheelbarrow Race entry are being solicited to support the decoration program. A well decorated town is advance notice of a good fair.

An added attraction for the entertainment program is a Jitterbug contest for which $10.00 in prize money has been allocated. This contest will be held Saturday evening, August 26th and will be open to all. The audience will participate in the judging.

There is considerable agitation for a women's section in the John Studebaker Wheelbarrow race but the fair directors feel that the sport is too strenuous and that some of fair sex might be injured. However, the argument is on.

Season tickets will be bargains this year. Season books will contain coupons entitling the bearer to 5 admissions to the fair, 5 parking coupons and admissions to five big entertainment features. A total value of $6.00 will be given for $1.00.

Grammar school children will be admitted free as usual.

Danzig Center Of "War" Talk

Shooting Of Polish Customs Guard Puts Armed Europe On Alert

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
U. P. Fortnight News Editor

A blaze of gunfire today punctuated with new dangers the deadlock between Poland and Germany over the free city of Danzig.

With the free city a sore spot surrounded by the massed armies of Europe's big powers, a Polish customs guard was shot and perhaps killed by a Danzig official at a time when authorities everywhere were nervous lest a moment of carelessness or hysteria set off a conflagration.

There were two versions of the shooting.

Even as the incident—which will be only as important as either side may desire to make it appear in the international tension—was reported, Nazis gave great publicity to a talk by Gen. Walter Von Brauchitsch at the historic town of Tannenberg in which he declared that Germany is "not looking for a fight but we are not afraid to fight."

While the Danzig quarrel created new nervousness in European capitals because of definite indications that the Reich will boost its military preparations to a new high in mid-August, there were new indications of a possible thrust by the totalitarian powers in southeastern Europe—toward Rumania—if the free city sector proves less inviting than expected.

Mrs. Emmerson At Home With Foot Fracture

Mrs. Juanita Emmerson, who on Tuesday of last week broke a bone in her heel in a fall at the home of her mother, remained a patient at Placerville Sanatorium until Monday of this week.

During that time the swelling in the foot was reduced so that it could be put in a cast and although she was able to go home, she will wear the cast for several weeks.

PACIFIC FRUIT EXCHANGE BUYS PACKING SHED

Upper Placerville Property Acquired From Albert Rupley; Firm Also Has Placed Order For 100 Cars Of Beach Box Factory Shook

Beginning with the packing season at least two weeks in advance of last year, Tuesday morning of this week the Pacific Fruit Exchange packing shed on Washington street was the scene of lively activities as a crew of 14 packers, together with crews on three graders started the packing season. W. P. Leavitt, local manager is directing the work. During the winter six new graders with overflow units were added; 2 new loading platforms were constructed and other additions made which will speed up operations for this season.

According to Mr. Leavitt, the building which has been leased by his company for the past two years, has been purchased from Albert Rupley, the deal being consummated last week. More improvements and alterations are to be made from time to time as production and progress of the business warrants. According to Mr. Leavitt the El Dorado county branch of the Pacific Fruit Exchange has been steadily growing. In 1935 18 cars were shipped, while shipments for this year, it is estimated, will run about 200 cars.

Total improvement costs, which includes the price paid for the building, will run in the neighborhood of $13,000, the manager added. Fruit coming into the packing shed Tuesday morning was from the Gold Hill and Cold Springs sections. Some from Pilot Hill district will start the last of this week. Although there will be a substantial reduction in the cost of packing to the grower this year, the same wage scale is to be maintained, it was indicated by the manager. Explaining the reductions in packing costs, it was pointed out that last year costs of packing was fifty cents a box while this year it will be forty-five cents.

Relative to the employment situation it was indicated that more help will be employed this year, due to enlargement of packing facilities.

"At present we have a full crew, employment being given first to experienced hands, a good many of whom were with us last year," Leavitt said. "It is our plan to give work to local people first."

It has been the plan of the Pacific Fruit Exchange to give first consideration to all local industry; patronizing and assisting in the up-building of El Dorado County at all times, it was pointed out by the manager. For example, it has been the earnest desire of our company to get as much of their box shock out right here in this county as possible. Not alone for the amount used here in Placerville but for a number of other packing sheds in other parts of the state. As a result according to figures released from Seth Beach more than 100 cars of shock were purchased through the S. G. Beach Box Factory for this season's pack. This should be materially increased next year, it was said.

Foreman in charge of packing, this year, is Jack Rhodes, assisted by David Gier on the floor. Harold Hunt is the bookkeeper. Ray Rossi, manager from the Suisun branch, is here for a few days assisting with field supervision.

Group Surveys Water In Desolation Valley

Wednesday, Walter Stoddard, state engineer from the department of water resources; Colonel George H. Hunt, engineer for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.; Roy Strum, local P. G. & E. The trip from Echo Lake was made horseback.

GEORGETOWN WATER HEARING MOVES AT RAPID PACE

Railroad Commission Gets Testimony Of Ranchers, Miner, Housewife, Garden Valley Landlord And North Side Laboring Man

The railroad commission inquiry into the North Side water situation moved at a rapid pace Thursday morning as the hearing was resumed at the I. O. O. F. hall at Georgetown before Commissioner Baker.

Although the first two days of the hearing, held during May, brought forward the testimony of only two witnesses, there were six who gave testimony Thursday morning and it was indicated that the hearing would continue at a brisk pace.

Louis Enzler, Cool rancher; Joseph Lindberg, Greenwood mining man; E. A. Connors, Greenwood rancher; Mrs. J. B. Kraul, housewife; and Elmer Freeman, laborer, were those who were called to the stand during the forenoon.

The testimony of the first five related principally to the type of service afforded by the water company and their personal experiences under such conditions.

Mr. Freeman testified he had, as a laboring man and also as a fisherman and hunter, crossed the ditch on numerous occasions and had, at different times, found animals of various description in the ditch in varying stages of decomposition.

The hearing represents an airing of a protest made to the railroad commission by the Georgetown water company, and also represents an inquiry by the commission on its own motion into the rules, rates and organization of the water company.

SCOUTING

Troop 57
Our regular meeting this week "fizzled out," but we plan to meet next Tuesday at the Lodge at four o'clock, prepared for a weiner roast at the cliffs.

We have consulted Mr. Sam Hern and from information gathered from that august soft-ball authority, we've found that a couple of games that Troop 86 thought were forfeited to them were actually a case of "no game." Having thus joyfully welded the battle axe of vengeance, we shout "off with their heads," and revise the standings:

Troop 57 won 2 0
Troop 67 - 1 1
Troop 86 0 2
Is eva'body happy? —Bill Dillinger.

Owen Winn was at Rumsey to spend July 4 with the Andrew Shell family, picnicking on Cache Creek, according to The Woodland Record.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen were at Arbuckle recently for a visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Allen.

Housewifery

To toughen brooms and make them last longer, dip them into boiling hot suds on washday.

To sugar doughnuts or crullers, put sugar into a paper sack and shake the doughnuts in this, two at a time.

To keep the salt shakers in a dry place between meals will help to prevent their becoming clogged in damp weather. An old custom is to turn a tumbler upside down over them when not in use.

To clean the children's fuzzy toys, make a paste of starch and just enough water to dissolve the starch. Rub the toy with this paste and when it is dry, brush it off. To "wash" the toy with dry corn meal will also remove much of the surface dirt.

Have you one of those tricky little can openers which make a neat triangular hole in the top of a can? These are excellent for opening cans of fruit juices or condensed milk. Many grocers give them away with canned products.

Declaration of their intention to wed was filed Wednesday with County Clerk Arthur J. Koletzke by W. E. Walsh, 38, of Superior, Wisconsin, and Frances G. Grier, 34, of San Diego.

KITCHEN KOMFORT AND CONVENIENCE

The housewife is usually too patient about putting up with inconveniences and discomforts in her kitchen. She becomes used to them and forgets how easy it would be to remedy defects. A dollar or two, plus an hour or two, would sometimes transform an aggravating kitchen into a delightful one.

Have you plenty of storage places in your kitchen? Room for the food chopper, the small oven, the toaster, the company coffee pot, the garbage can, all the pots, pans, cleaning utensils, canned foods, cooking supplies, ad infinitum?

It is possible to buy ready-made cupboards which may be hung on the walls, over the sink, stove and refrigerator, if there is no available floor space on which they may stand. Ingenuity will discover places where shelves and racks may be located.

Have you the best modern work tools — an electric mixer, juicer, squeezer, can opener, knife sharpener, spoons, knives, kettles, cleansers, agents and all the paraphernalia to make work easy and pleasant? It pays to make a round of the department stores occasionally to see what one may find to make household labor more efficient.

Have you adequate work surfaces, of the right height, neither too high nor too low? Practical tops for work surfaces are monel metal, linoleum, enamel and stainless steel. A movable table on wheels or a tea wagon is a great convenience in the kitchen. It may be shoved where it is needed. Have you a stepladder-stool combination? Have you a good light? A clamp-on light is a convenient supplement to the kitchen lamp, as it may be moved at will.

Have you a good sink, large enough and well-drained? As to disposing of pots and pans, most housewives like them out of sight, in a cabinet rather than hanging on a rack in the open kitchen, but opinion varies as to whether they should hang or set on a shelf. Unless they stack nicely, it is probably easier to have a hook for everything and everything on its hook.

Fashions, Fads, Foibles

One reason for the swept-up style of hair is that it makes the head look smaller and more distinguished. Combs and pins are necessary to anchor it on high.

The parasol, an almost forgotten comfort when the boiling sun is doing business, has come into favor again, since charming Queen Elizabeth made good use of it on her recent visit to the Western hemisphere.

Printed cotton goods in dresses is the thing for hot weather. King

Cotton never ruled with a more aristocratic hand. There are plenty of cotton embroideries and laces to embellish the cotton wardrobe.

Summer Make-Up

Lipstick, rouge and nail polish are now seasonal. Heavy, dark, warm colors are for cold weather. For summer, the lighter, flatter shades look cooler and daintier. A muted pink lipstick is matched by nail polish and rouge. Time was when these beauty aids were each a law unto itself, rather than an ensemble, as now.

As a powder base, to make the powder stay on and protect the skin, a thin cream or a lotion is useful. Summer face powder is a delicate pink or sun tan pink. The more bluish the shade the cooler it will appear.

Vegetable Cookery

Strong vegetables, such as cabbage and turnips, should be cooked in a generous amount of water and with the cover off. To cook them too long will turn them yellow or dark. Peas, greens and more delicately flavored vegetables are cooked in the smaller amount of water and should be cooked uncovered. To preserve the color, cook them the shortest time necessary. Add salt to vegetables when they are cooking. A bit of vinegar added will help to preserve the red color. Do not trim off the stem of beets too closely before cooking or they will bleed and turn pale.

How To Keep Cool

Nature has methods of keeping us fair-conditioned. The best of these is the evaporation of sweat on the surface of the skin. When perspiration pours from us on a hot day, it is nature's way of ridding us of surplus heat.

Another method is by drinking cold liquids, but a caution must be heeded here, to drink them slowly, to sip them, else the shock is too great for the stomach and may cause cramps or indigestion.

To take a cold bath or plunge in to cool water is another method of cooling off—but this, too, requires caution. One should not do it when the body is very hot, as after vigorous exercise when we are "all of a sweat." We should first sit in the shade and cool off gradually. Drinks with much sugar in them are heating, since sugar is a fuel food. Plain water and fruit juices are ideal coolers.

Furniture

When furniture is scratched, rub with floor wax on a soft cloth.

If fuzzy lint has stuck to your table top from the table pad, try washing it off with warm water. If this does not work, rub it with powdered pumice-stone and linseed oil. This will dull the finish and require that the whole surface be so treated. The spot may not show. The dulled appearance of the top does not spoil, but rather enriches it. If a chair creaks, work some soap shavings into the offending spot.

Popovers

The secret of making popovers pop is to beat the batter well, put them into very hot tins and bake quickly in a hot oven. Mix a half teaspoon of salt into two cups of flour. Stir into this, gradually, one and three-fourths cups of milk, until smooth. Then add a teaspoon of melted fat and four eggs well beaten. Beat this batter with a beater for two minutes; put into hot, greased muffin tins and bake quickly.

Tomato Tang

A tomato sauce to add interest to toast and eggs is made by boiling for ten minutes, six tomatoes, one tablespoon each of butter, minced onion and sugar, a pinch of cloves and one bay leaf. Add to this one pound of mild cheese, cut in small pieces, two beaten eggs and a teaspoon of some hot meat sauce; and stir until smooth. Pour the sauce, piping hot, over slices of toast on each of which is deposited one egg fried soft, in butter.

Cub Quadruplets Born At Yosemite Park

YOSEMITE (P)—A mother brown bear, breaking all Yosemite National Park records, gave birth to quadruplets during the winter hibernation at Glacier Point, it was disclosed today.

The discovery was made by a forest ranger. Two of the cubs, he said, are brown, and two are black. Several twins and a few triplets have been born in the valley, but this was the first set of quadruplets.

hour scale for WPA, and they understood that the "strikers" would be back at work Friday.

WASHINGTON, (P)—Attorney General Frank Murphy reiterated today that the government could not permit strikes against it, and said that such strikes might lay a foundation for "fascism in this country."

Murphy made the statement while the Workers Alliance, a union of relief workers, conducted protest demonstrations in several cities against provisions of the new relief act which abolished the prevailing wage and exacted "vacations" from relief rolls for those who have received benefits for 18 months.

David Lasser, Workers Alliance president, said the demonstrations were not a strike and that most of them would be held in the afternoon. Reports at noon indicated that in only scattered localities had the demonstrations occurred.

"There can't be strikes and there ought not to be strikes against the government," Murphy said at his press conference. "I don't know of anything that would build up a fascist psychology any quicker in this country."

4-H CLUB NEWS

Rescue Club

The Rescue 4-H Club held a business meeting Saturday night, July 15, at Deer Valley schoolhouse with most of the members present. Besides the usual business routine, a few plans were made for future activities of the club. These included the plans for a play, "Romance in a Boarding House," which the club will present during the month of August, and also plans for finishing the quilt which is to be given away.

"Romance in a Boarding House" is a comedy in four acts by James C. Parker. It is primarily a character study and it proves to be a very fascinating comedy. Practices for the play are being held regularly. The proceeds of the presentation will be used by the club to assist its members in attending the world's fair at San Francisco.

GRANGE NOTES

Pleasant Valley Grange No. 675 held their 20th meeting at Pleasant Valley with a very large attendance. They were also two visitors from Hangtown and one from Gold Trail Grange. Hall plans were discussed and also fair plans. We were all very sorry to hear of Mr. Frank P. Brown's death. The Pomona is going to meet in our new Grange hall in September. A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed by everyone. We are always glad to have visitors. Myrtle Avansino, Lecturer.

LEWIS PLUMBING SHOP TO MOVE TO SITE NEAR 'PHONE OFFICE

Eskew had as guests this week a group of friends from Chicago and Wheaton, Illinois, who included Mrs. Jessie Danek and son, Hubert, Miss Elsie Smith and the Misses Edith and Louetta Woolfenden. Desolation Valley Trail Work Is Continued

Continuing the progressive construction of the Tahoe-Yosemite train section between Meek's Bay and Echo Lakes, a ten-man crew started work this week from the Meek's Bay end of the trail.

Thus far, the forest headquarters indicates, only one crew will work this year owing to a curtailment of funds available for this type of work. In previous years there have been two crews on the trail.

The rebuilding, instituted several years ago and continued from year to year, has resulted in the construction of approximately 28 miles of new trail, it was said.

ANDERSON, BEAR GRIDDER, BADLY INJURED IN OIL REFINERY

CROCKETT, (UP)—Fred Anderson, who had been counted upon to carry the brunt of the attack on the University of California football team next fall, probably will never again participate in athletics.

Anderson, 23 year old senior, was seriously hurt when a 20 ton condenser fell on him at an oil refinery here. He received a compound fracture of the left ankle and serious cuts on both legs. Physicians who treated him said his injuries probably will keep him from further competition.

Joyce Raley, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Raley, of Sacramento is spending this week in Placerville visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bateman.

The Reader Comments

Editor: May I call your attention to an error in your paper concerning the final standing in the Fraternal division of softball? The Smith Flat club finished in fourth place instead of the Forest Service, with 2 victories and three losses, having won from SRA and the PSEA ball clubs.

You have it scheduled as 250 with one victory and three losses. This may not be important, but I would like to see the team where it rightfully belongs. So will you please correct the error in your next paper?

A SMIT FLAT BALL FAN.

Inquiry of Louis Neal, league secretary, brings the report that the Smith Flat Ball Fan is correct as to the number of games won and lost by the Smith Flat Club and Mr. Neal has called on the league scorer for an audit of the standing of the clubs in the fraternal division and has promised us a copy of the corrected standings which we will publish. We thank the Smith Flat Ball Fan for calling the error to our attention. We are unable to offer an explanation of it, since it may have resulted from any one of a number of causes arising outside as well as inside of the office—Editor.

OREGON TRAIL ASSOCIATION CONVENTION TOUR TO VISIT COUNTY

The annual convention of the Oregon Trail Memorial Association will be held at Sacramento on August 27th and the convention program will include an excursion to El Dorado County.

Details of the association's plans in this regard have not been announced, but it is learned that members of the association intend to meet August 23 at Salt Lake City, and proceed to Sacramento so that it seems possible their route west may include the trip over the old Pioneer Trail from Virginia City through Carson City and Placerville to Sacramento.

The Oregon Trail Association has been active in the marking of pioneer trails in the west and is responsible for supplying the markers along the old Pony Express Route, some of which are erected in El Dorado County.

SUMMIT ROAD SURFACING CONTRACT ADVERTISED FOR BIDS

Bids will be opened at the assembly room in the Public Works Building at Sacramento on August 9th for surfacing approximately 2.4 miles of road at the Echo summit.

This is according to a notice to contractors advertised this week by the Department of Public Works.

The section to be surfaced is that recently realigned between a point approximately 2 miles east of Phillips and a point approximately three miles west of Meyers. The new section is an entirely new alignment of road and the work will not seriously interfere with travel over the route.

AUTHOR OF NOTED TAKEN BY DEATH AT SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, (UP)—Mrs. Rose Hartwick Thorpe, author of the poem "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight" was dead today. She was 89 years old.

Death was attributed to heart disease and came last night at the home of her son-in-law, Hartwick Barnes, in San Diego.

When she was but 16 years old and a student in high school at Litchfield, Michigan, Mrs. Thorpe—then Rose Hartwick—wrote on a scratchy slate the poem which was to bring her world fame.

It was her first long poem and one which she considered so lacking in merit that for two years it was neglected, reprinted in a notebook containing many other of the young poetess' works and forgotten.

For two years she kept up a steady stream of contributions to a Detroit newspaper, then one week when she became ill and was unable to send anything, her mother discovered "curfew must not ring tonight" and sent it to the paper.

Immediately it was reprinted in hundreds of publications and received wide acclaim, but through lack of copyright protection, Mrs. Thorpe never received direct remuneration for the poem. The only income derived from it came from sale of autographed copies.
